

EVENTFUL CAREER OF REV. J. F. BRANNIN

Oldest Member of the Virginia Conference.

WAS ONCE AT UNION STATION

Was Pastor in This City Over Fifty Years Ago—Has Worked All Over Eastern Virginia and is a Lovable Character—Active and Energetic.

One of the most striking and interesting figures in the Virginia Methodist Conference, now in session here, is Rev. James F. Brannin, of Culpeper, who has been a faithful laborer in the cause, perhaps longer than any Methodist preacher in the State. Although seventy-seven years of age, Mr. Brannin is still quite active, and is a man of distinguished personal appearance, being often reminded of his facial likeness to the late Senator L. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi. Mr. Brannin is a native of Fauquier county, Va., and is descended from sturdy Irish stock on one side and French Huguenot on the other. He received his early education in Culpeper county, where his father was driven by political oppression when the subject of this sketch was a boy. In 1838 he united with the M. E. Church at Providence, and in 1845 joined the Virginia Conference, and was appointed junior preacher to the Louisa circuit. In 1846 Mr. Brannin was sent to the Mathews circuit, where, owing to excessive work, his health became greatly impaired.

ORDAINED DEACON.
At the following conference in Charlottesville he was ordained deacon and appointed to Union Hill station (now Union Station Church) this city. In 1848 Mr. Brannin's health again gave way and he was granted a leave to travel by the conference.

he was ordained elder at the conference of 1850, and appointed to the Culpeper circuit. He was, subsequently, on the following circuits: Orange, Warrenton, Fauquier, Brunswick, King and Queen, Orange, Louisa, and Fauquier and Westmoreland. In the order named. In the latter part of sixty-one he was prostrated with malaria, which for nearly nine years disqualified him for pastoral work. During most of this time he resided at the old homestead in Culpeper and from 1862 to 1864 he saw and felt all the horrors of war, both in camp and on the field of battle.

He refused to take the oath required by the Federal authorities and thus suffered the loss of his personal property and was frequently subjected to brutal treatment.

On account of his ill health Mr. Brannin did not re-enter upon his pastoral work after the war until 1871, when he was on the following circuits consecutively: Rappahannock, Culpeper, Caroline, Culpeper, Nelson, Heathsville, Henrico, and Greene. He was again prostrated by over work and was superannuated for two years and not his wife. Later he was placed upon the effective list and sent to King George and then to Culpeper.

On the retired list.

In 1890 the conference granted Mr. Brannin a superannuated relation, since which time he has lived quietly at his home in Culpeper.

In 1898 Mr. Brannin married Miss Eliza

Tacket, of Stafford county, who through all the shifting scenes that have followed has shared his joys and sorrows and smoothed the roughest parts of his long and eventful life. Out of a large class of 1886 Mr. Brannin is the sole survivor, and recently he received a copy of the roll of membership of Union Station Church, of which over fifty years ago he was pastor, and was unable to recognize a single name as having been among his flock.

Mr. Brannin's long career has been devoted zealously to the Holy Cause of breaking the bread of life to human souls, and though the shades of evening are gradually gathering about him, he is a ray of sunshine on the pathway of those with whom he comes in contact.

Mr. Brannin is of the highest type of the old Virginia gentleman and is widely popular in the many sections of the State where he is known.

While attending conference Mr. Brannin was the guest of Mrs. M. Scott Sublett, No. 804 East Leigh Street.
